

LET'S FACE IT:

Community Forum on Media Violence & Children

For most families television, video games, and the internet are a part our lives. Yet, studies find that the violence in the media can slow our children's functioning and increase violent behaviors. How can we raise healthy children in a world filled with television and video game violence? Did you know

- American children and adolescents spend 22 to 28 hours per week viewing television, more than any other activity except sleeping.
- Almost $\frac{3}{4}$ of all children have a TV in their bedroom and millions of teens spend time on social networking sites.
- By age 18, a U.S. youth will have seen 16,000 simulated murders and 200,000 acts of violence
